

PEOPLE SYSTEMS FOR FOUNDERS

6 uncomfortable truths

about startup HR in Pakistan

Built from four startup people functions

01

Competitive salary is not a salary band

Candidates cannot evaluate an offer you refuse to define.

02

A six-day week is not proof of commitment

It can also be proof that the company has normalized avoidable urgency.

03

An enterprise job description does not fit a ten-person startup

The title may match. The actual work rarely does.

04

A degree is often used as a shortcut

For non-regulated work, evidence of ability deserves more weight than access to education.

05

A policy that changes by manager is not a policy

Consistency matters most when the answer is inconvenient.

06

HR cannot repair founder inconsistency

People & Culture | Startup workforce decisions
